“ Adeline was my first cousin, though we were separated some in age. The reason for that is that her mother was the oldest sister in that large family and my mother was the youngest, about 20 years younger. We had the privilege of living in Glendive for 25 years and enjoyed interactions with Adeline in a number of ways. I always thought she was a strong lady. She knew what her beliefs and opinions were, and she didn't mind letting others know, but she also gave space for others who might or might not agree with her. She was a special lady, did serve others, and her death closes a chapter in the generation of that family. We're glad she could participate in services we had at Extended Care the last few years we were there.

“ Adeline Ost was my Aunt, my Dad Ed's sister. I don't have a lot of personal memories of my Aunt, and never really got to know her because the miles always separated us. But I do know a lot of things that make proud to say that I was her nephew. She grew up on a farm the youngest of five brothers and a sister, all of whom were quite a bit older. Moving to Glendive with my Grandpa and Gramma through the years she became the caretaker for them. My Grandpa was hale and hearty in his old age, but Gramma was not and Aunt Adeline was there for her to the end. She cared for my Grandpa till he passed. She found love in her middle age and married Bill Ost, and devoted her life to him. Their love was short, far to short for such a deserving and special lady. What I'm saying is that she gave her life, her entire life, to the service of others, without expecting anything in return. She could be irascible and always spoke her mind, her truth. Her faith was her foundation and she never faltered. Thank you Aunt Adeline for living as an example for all of us.

A special thank you to my cousin Alice for becoming Adelines care taker and friend. She lives Adeline's example.
