Millie was born September 21, 1913, in San Francisco, California, the daughter of Nicola and Jennie (D'Angeli) Anselmi. Millie was raised and educated in San Francisco. On October 11, 1947, Millie married Nicholas Wirtzfeld in San Francisco. After their marriage they lived in Sentinel Butte, North Dakota, and in Spokane, Washington, for a time before moving back to San Francisco where they lived until Nicholas retired as a machinist. The couple moved to Las Vegas, Nevada, in 1971. Ten years later they moved to Beach, North Dakota. Millie spent the majority of her working years employed with the wholesale hardware company Dunham, Carrigan, & Hayden as an assistant sales auditor. Millie was an excellent cook and baker. She enjoyed sharing her culinary skills with everyone. Millie loved children and was a surrogate grandmother for many children. For the last five years, Millie lived at the Country House in Dickinson and loved it there. The staff at country house also loved having her. Millie was preceded in death by her parents; her husband, Nicholas in 1998; her sisters, Laura Kordel, Lena Vallelunga, Jennie McLeod; and her half-brothers, August, Michael Mario, and Albert Anselmi. Millie is survived by numerous nieces and nephews.
