Chris was born on July 15, 1981 in Circle Montana, the son of Daleen Hove. During his early years Chris lived in Miles City, Montana and Dickinson, North Dakota while his mother obtained her nursing degree. After Daleen's graduation Chris, his sister and his mother returned to Circle where they lived with his grandparents Archie and Kathy Hove. In 1987, Chris's mother married Tom Heitz. Chris always said that Tom was the only man he would call "Dad". In 1991 the family moved to Glendive where Chris attended Lincoln Elementary School and Dawson County High School, graduating with the class of 2000. Chris was talking about his class reunion which was to be held in the summer of 2010. Chris married Darlena Nentwig on September 11, 2002 in Glendive. They had three children, Jordan Alexis in 2003, Stephanie Alexandria in 2005 and Austin Alexander in 2006. His children were the love of his life and threaten to be his "paybacks" for all the things he had done in his childhood. Chris worked for the last eight years in the oilfield as a derrick hand and most recently for Cyclone. He loved to spend his free time working on motorcycles and cars. He also enjoyed hunting for deer and antelope. In the last month, Chris and his mother became a family again while remodeling her and Tom's home. This was an important time of sharing their feelings and talking of the future. Chris was preceded in death by his mother-in-law Darlene Nentwig. Survivors include his wife Darlena, and his three children, Jordan, Stephanie, and Austin; his parents, Tom and Daleen Heitz all of Glendive; his grandparents, Archie and Kathleen Hove of Circle, his sister, Kimberly Haynie (Dan) of Circle, father-in-law, Lynton Nentwig, two brothers-in-law, L.J.
