Silvernale-Silha Funeral Home of Glendive is entrusted with the arrangements. Diane was born in 1948 in Glendive the daughter of George and Gladys Harvey. She was raised in Dawson County Montana, attended rural Dawson County School. As a youngster, Diane was a 4-H member. She attended high school in Glendive and graduated from Dawson County High School with the class of 1965. Following her graduation from high school, Diane attended Miles City Beauty College where she completed the course in 1966. She returned to Glendive in 1966, where she was employed in local beauty shops from 1966-1973. In 1973 she purchased "Your Beauty Shop" which she continued to operate until the time of her death. She married Steve Deckert in 1967 and they made their home in Glendive. Diane and Steve divorced in 1985. Diane later met Mark Moore in 1987 and they resided together in the family home until the time of her death. Diane expanded her shop with a clothing line in 2003 and the name became "Your Beauty Shop and Boutique." Diane's greatest love was family and friends. She always enjoyed any time spent with either family or friends and looked forward to the next time that they could get together. Diane loved flower gardening, home decorating and yard care. She took great pride in always being in current fashion with her home decorations and her cars. She had provided her home for both the Holiday Home Tour and the Garden Tour which is held in Glendive each year. Diane also loved clothes, shoes and jewelry and always got great enjoyment out of attending markets where she would purchase the latest fashions for the upcoming seasons for her store. Diane was known for her generous and giving personality and she couldn't turn away a stray cat that needed a home. Diane was a member of former Hustlers Car Club, the Badlands Drifters Car Club, The Gallery, the Red Hat Society, the Women of the Moose and the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary. Diane was preceded in death by her parents. Survivors include her husband, Mark Moore and his family, Chris, Luke, Kellie and Amy and Mike, Margie and Beth; one brother, David Harvey; one sister, Patsy Olmstead and her husband Jim; two nieces, Theresa and Kimberly; one nephew, Michael; cousins residing in the United States and England and aunts and uncles in England.
