“ Don and I served together in Vietnam, We went over on a ship together in January, 1966 and spent a year there. He was a really great guy. I enjoyed playing music with him. Some of my fondest memories of him are of the times we would go into the little village of Phuoc Vinh to one of the cafes/bars where he would usually find a guitar to play. It wasn't long before he had an audience of 15 or 20 Vietnamese people standing around listening and smiling as he sang and played Buck Owens songs. I doubt if they could understand the words but they sure did enjoy this G.I. who brought them a little authentic American music. If any family members would like to hear more about our experiences in 1966 in VN, feel free to contact me. edbrock.btr@gmail.com
