Interment will be in the Dawson County Cemetery, Glendive. Silvernale-Silha Funeral Home of Glendive is entrusted with the arrangements. Frances was born on July 25, 1917 on the family farm in rural Dawson County, near Bloomfield, Montana, the daughter of David Ervin and Onie (Rapp) Johnston. She was raised and educated in the Bloomfield area and attended Dawson County High School in Glendive. She married Kenneth Engle on March 30, 1936 in Wibaux, Montana. She and her husband lived in Idaho for a short time before returning to Glendive where they had made their home since. Frances had worked at the Safeway Grocery and also the Super 8 Motel in Glendive. She was very active in the American Cancer Society, Royal Neighbors and the Degree of Honor. She was a longtime member of the Westside Baptist Church of Glendive and she loved her church and her church family. Frances enjoyed canning foods and was a very good cook, but what gave her the most enjoyment was her love of quilting and sewing and she was well known for her beautiful work. Frances was preceded in death by her husband in 1996, a daughter, Loretta Spencer in 1968, a granddaughter,

Lonnie Spencer in 1978, one-half brother and two-half sisters. Survivors include her daughter, Jeanette Kutzler and her husband Allen of Erie, Colorado, her son, Ron Engle of Ferndale, Washington, her daughter, Patti Hoatson and her husband Tom of Big Horn, Montana, her son, David Engle and his wife Dona of Glendive and her daughter, Cheri Addington of Glendive, 14 grandchildren, 17 great grandchildren and 2 great great grandchildren.
