“ I first met Jim when I worked for Shell Oil in Baker. He was the mechanic in the Pine Unit area. 298 was his radio number. I had the great blessing to work with Jim when I was transfed to Pine Unit from the Baker area. We hit it off instantly. He was a guy that was always figuring out how to do things better and liked to tinker with mechanical stuff. He was also a Christian man. I remember he always had his black Bible in the 298 truck. We shared interests in processing meat, building anything whether it be a metal project or a wood construction project. He was a true friend and an avid trading post listener just like me. He will be missed beyond of which words can express. As I type this tears are rolling from my eyes. I miss you much my friend. God Bless Ron and Richard as they have a great void in their lives without Jim and Marilyn. I will miss you much. Jim Bowker, Fort Peck.

I enjoyed your comment, Jim B. One of my favorite Jim M stories was when a new Shell foreman transferred in and during hunting season shot a deer and dropped it off at Jim's to be processed without first gutting it. We sure laughed about that. Like you, I think of Jim and Marilyn often and will miss knowing they aren't in Glendive any more. Earl Jensen

“ Ron, Richard and family: I am shocked to see that your Dad passed away, I just visited with him at the grocery store a few weeks ago. He and Marilyn are now together again garage sailing in heaven. The angels said Jim come and spend your life with us, you will be happy. God Bless You and fly high with the angels.
