“ I got to know John when he was working at Dawson County High School. At that time we were both dealing with a bout with cancer. John was slow to speak, but when he did it was from the heart. He always seemed happy to see me and and wouldn't you know I felt the same towards John. His sincere nature led me to believe that certain times of his life may have been tough, like his picture here. For some reason I always felt a little better after seeing John. He will be missed.
