She graduated from high school in Sentinel Butte, North Dakota with the class of 1960. Maggie married John Moser on November 3, 1962 in Glendive. They lived in Wibaux, Montana and later moved to Kansas. They had two sons, Fernand Matthew, born on June 1, 1965, and Darrin Ray, born on December 18, 1970. They later divorced and Maggie moved back to Wibaux with her sons. Maggie married Tony Efta on July 22, 1972 in Wibaux at the barbershop. They lived near Wibaux and farmed. They had one son, Robert Don, born on March 7, 1973. They later divorced. Maggie moved to Glendive in 1989 and resided there until her death. Maggie was always a hard worker and started working early in life. She worked in banking, painting, at the Fiberglass Plant, cooking, and had recently retired from working in her own house cleaning business. Maggie truly enjoyed her work cleaning houses and forged special friendships with many families she helped through this skill. Maggie loved to cook, read, play Bingo, card games, giving advice, voice her opinions, and share her wisdom. Maggie believed it was very important to stay busy and work hard. She never met a painting job she could not conquer. Maggie believed in planning ahead, being prepared and was a master organizer. Family was important to Maggie; she was very close with her nieces and her grandchildren. She took special delight in her great nephew, Gage. He made her eyes twinkle at his antics and she always had a tale to tell about something witty he had done. All will miss her wisdom at family gatherings. Maggie was preceded in death by her mother, Dorothy Evans (Waldahl); her father, Orrin Lovell; her stepfather, John "Don" Evans; and her son, Robert Efta.
