Parker was born on February 10, 2007 in Greenville, North Carolina at the Pitt County Memorial Hospital. He was a feisty little guy who put up a brave fight. Though he was only on earth for a brief time, his charisma touched all who knew him. The nurses that cared for him in North Carolina referred to him as "the boy with the most precious face". He loved to stick his tongue out at anyone who was talking to him. The nursing staff quickly learned that Parker didn't like IV's and would stubbornly remove any that weren't securely attached. His personality overwhelmed those who were fortunate to spend time with him, as well as those who only got to know him through updates and pictures. This little angel will surely be missed. Parker was preceded in death by his grandfather, Herb Storey. He is survived by his parents, Nathan and Carrey Lordemann of Greenville, North Carolina; his sister, Marisa Evelyn Lordemann of the family home; his paternal grandparents, Dennis and Nancy Lordemann of Billings, Montana; his paternal great grandparents, Hank and Evelyn Lordemann of Glendive, Montana; his paternal great grandmother, Martha Yarbrough of Knoxville, Tennessee; maternal grandparents, Donna and Larry Woods of Maryville, Tennessee; maternal great grandmother, Molly Bilyeu of Alcoa, Tennessee; maternal great grandparents, Willard and Wanda Garrison of Manairdville, Tennessee; maternal great great grandmother, Roxie Queen of Knoxville, Tennessee; his aunts and uncles, April and Rich Streeter of Billings, Montana, Lacey Lordemann of Billings, Montana, Joshua Garrison of Charlotte, North Carolina, Devon Storey, Shannon Storey, and Deanne Woodard, all of Atlanta, Georgia; cousins, Shade Streeter, Ireland Streeter and Ella Thonney, all of Billings, Montana and numerous great aunts and uncles in Montana and Tennessee.
