Interment will be in the Dawson Memorial Cemetery in Glendive. Silvernale - Silha Funeral Home of Glendive has been entrusted with the arrangements. Pat was born November 6, 1934 on the family homestead in rural Richland County, the daughter of Elmer and Ruth (Sharbono) Mastvelten. Pat was raised and educated in the Savage area where she attended Savage High School. Pat married Doug Barone on January 23, 1952 in Plentywood, Montana. Following their marriage, they remained in the Savage area for a short time before moving to Oklahoma where Doug was employed in the oilfield. They lived in Oklahoma, Texas and Colorado before returning to Montana in the mid 1950's. Pat and Doug moved to Baker, Montana in the late 1950's where they lived until 1981 when they moved to Glendive. They resided in Glendive until 2000 when they built a new home on the family farm near Savage where they have lived since. Pat loved to bowl and participated in National Bowling Tournaments. Pat loved her children and grandchildren, she enjoyed crafting and was very creative, having made photo albums for all of her children and grandchildren. Pat loved traveling especially going on cruises. She enjoyed collecting butterflies, angels, and travel spoons. She was preceded in death by her parents, father-in-law and mother-in-law. Survivors include her husband, Doug Barone of Savage; a son, Doug Barone Jr. (Rita) of Casper, Wyoming; a daughter, Janet (Wes) Froehlich of Hillsboro, North Dakota; a son, Tim Barone (Dauphine) of Seattle, Washington; a daughter, Teresa (Bill) Wade of Glendive; and a daughter, Carla (Bruce) Sapp of Azle, Texas; eleven grandchildren and thirteen great grandchildren; one brother, Don (Clara) Mastvelten of Savage; and two sisters, Gail (Dennis) Walla of Crane, Montana; and Kaye (Wally) Braun of Savage, Montana.
