“ In Memory of Ron

He enjoyed reading books, observing the sky with it's endless stars, the wonders of creation.

He walked with his dog taking in the aliveness and beauty of nature.

He fished and hunted with his dad and learned the disciplines and companionship of life.

He read and understood history, it's events and causes and how they affected our nation.

Ron, we miss you dearly, hug your dad for us may you be the bridge between him and all your family
